"Hands Across the Sea"

THE very fact that two flags—the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack—are flying from the mastheads of vessels now jointly patrolling the sea lines of the Atlantic gives us more than reasonable assurance that the Tulip bulbs that have been carefully grown for us in England will arrive safely and on time.

Few people realize that in England—just across the channel from Holland—there are extensive bulb-producing areas that are amazingly similar to the famous bulb fields of Holland, and where bulbs of the first quality are grown.

Speaking of Holland, we are tremendously pleased to learn from our former Dutch growers that they have been able, in unexplained ways, to safeguard their precious planting stocks and carry them along, so far at least in sufficient quantities, so that the future prospects of our again having Dutch-grown bulbs, in more or less unlimited varieties and types, are not wholly black.

Under war conditions we feel not a little pride in being able to offer to our patrons as complete a list of bulbs as the following pages illustrate and describe. There are, of course, certain charming things that are missing from the pages of this catalog, but where European and Asiatic sources of supply have failed, American sources of supply have, in many cases, filled the gaps.

By securing all these many kinds of bulbs and by placing this catalog of our 1941 offerings in your hands, we have done about all that we can do to help you in your Autumn Garden activities. Therefore, it is now your turn to think of Spring and act promptly, both in your interest and ours. It is an undeniable fact that some Tulip varieties are in very short supply. All orders received will, in fairness to everyone, be filled in rotation. In order that we may not disappoint you please order early. We hope that orders placed with us later in the season will carry with them your permission to substitute varieties of equal merit where and when substitution is the only way that the order can be filled. We hope that your next Spring's Garden will be a great success.

Faithfully yours,

JOSEPH BRECK & SONS

DAFFODILS or NARCISSI

THE many beautiful Daffodils or Narcissi now available represent the most pleasing and widely cultivated of all Spring-flowering bulbs. Each Fall countless thousands are planted where they may be left alone to naturalize. They are at home in any good garden soil but prefer deep, well-drained loam. For garden planting, prepare the soil deeply, working in old rotted manure well below the surface, so that it will not come in contact with the bulbs. Do not use fresh manure. Plant so that the top of the bulb is about three times its diameter beneath the surface.

All About Flowering Bulbs

By T. A. WESTON

All that one needs to know about the planting and care of some 80 families of bulbs is set down clearly and entertainingly in the 184 pages which make up this volume. An amazing amount of information is given about Spring flowering, Summer flowering and Tender bulbs, and it may safely be said that it is information at first hand, not compiled. The illustrations, too, are noteworthy, there being eight full page color plates and 68 black and white halftones. $2.00. Postpaid.

GROW DAFFODILS INDOORS

For indoor flowering, pot the bulbs during September or October in a compost consisting of good garden loam, leaf-mold, and clean, sharp sand. Set the bulbs about a half inch below the surface. Water well, and then place in a cool cellar or bury outside in a bed of coal ashes. Water occasionally. When well rooted—which will be in about three months—bring inside at intervals for forcing. Keep in a temperature of between 50 and 60 degrees until flower buds are well advanced, after which they should be given a warmer location and plenty of water and sunshine.

YOU, TOO, CAN HAVE A "SANDY VALLEY" DAFFODIL PLANTING

On this page we picture actual scenes at Sandy Valley, Dedham, Mass. where Breck's Daffodils each Spring present a picture that draws thousands of admiring visitors from all over New England. At "Sandy Valley" which is the property of Mr. John L. Russell, of the Breck firm, visitors may stroll along informal paths that wind through woodland scenes and lead across sun-drenched meadows, and everywhere—no matter where you look—there are Daffodils, thousands upon thousands of them in gay and informal mixtures and in drifts of separate varieties.

You can plant Daffodils in this same alluring manner on your own place and get these same fascinating naturalistic effects. In other words plant Daffodils to grow like wild flowers. Such plantings are permanent. They will grow in beauty each year.

SINGLE EARLY TULIPS

At the time when Early Tulips bloom, there are scarcely any brilliant garden flowers open except Narcissus and Hyacinths and, in spite of all the beauty of Narcissus, they lack contrast in large plantings because of their limited color range. The Single Early Tulips supply the brilliance which is lacking at that season. A second very desirable quality about the Early Tulips is that the bloom is over and the plants matured in time to permit replanting the beds with Summer annuals which will come into bloom early in the season.

Brilliant Star—12 in.

Rich vermilion-scarlet, yellow base. An unusually fine Tulip for early forcing and an excellent bedding variety.

40 cts. for 3, $1.35 per doz., $10.35 per 100

De Wet—15 in.

An enormous bowl-shaped flower of vivid golden yellow, flamed with burning orange. One of the finest Tulips in the world. Sweetly scented.

60 cts. for 3, $2.90 per doz., $16.75 per 100

Diana—17 in.

Ibis—14 in. Well-formed flowers of deep brilliant rose, silvery white at the margin.

40 cts. for 3, $1.40 per doz., $10.50 per 100

Keizerskroon

One of the oldest but still popular Tulips. It grows about 14 inches tall and is of a blazing crimson-scarlet color, with a broad, rich, golden yellow edge. No other variety gives such brilliant and dazzling effect.

40 cts. for 3, $1.50 per doz., $11.45 per 100

Rising Sun—14 in. Flowers very large, pure yellow. One of the best of this color.

40 cts. for 3, $1.40 per doz., $10.50 per 100

PARROT TULIPS

These are the freaks of the Tulip family. The very large buds usually twist and turn in a way to suggest the head and beak of a parrot. They open to broad, irregular, and fantastic flowers with slashed, fringed, lacinated, puckered, ruffled, and otherwise distorted blooms. Don't be discouraged with their early appearance. They are strikingly different from other Tulips in growth; are attractive and we recommend that by all means you grow a few "Parrots."

Fantasy

An enormous, popular, new variety. Has shades of flesh-pink, shell-pink, scarlet and white, marbled and mottled with green on the outside. Petals are feathered and fringed fantastically and the stems are strong. Always attracts favorable attention.

SUNDEW—25 in.

A very unusual Tulip which resembles a Darwin Tulip in form much more than it does a Parrot. Bright cardinal-red with a dark center. The petal edges are fringed, giving the blooms a very charming and unique appearance.

35 cts. for 3, $1.30 per doz., $9.90 per 100

ENGLISH COTTAGE

THE Cottage Tulip Group is unique in that it presents the greatest variation in flower form of any of the major classifications. There are blooms of the conventional Tulip form which are impossible to distinguish from Darwins; there are egg-shaped and bowl-shaped Tulips, as well as some that show a rosebud form, and in addition to these there are Lily-flowered with long, pointed, gracefully reflexed petals.

The colors range from white through all the various shades of blush, pink, salmon, and rose and the most brilliant and startling shades of cerise, carmine and crimson as well as yellow. There is not a dull variety in the entire group. With a few exceptions, such as Advance, they bloom during the latter part of May and grow from about 1½ to 3 feet in height. They may be used with, or in exactly the same way as Darwin Tulips, and with their brilliancy and wide diversity in form will provide unusual effects.

Cottage Tulips should be planted in just the same way as suggested for Darwins.

Advance—32 in.

To obtain a glimpse of what the Tulip future holds, plant a few Advance. Stems better than the best Darwin, petals longer than those of the largest Darwin, two weeks earlier than the earliest Darwin. Altogether bolder and better than anything in either Darwin, Breeder, or Cottage class. Red, with a "come-hither" flush of deepest roseate orange.

$1.10 for 3, $3.85 per doz., $29.00 per 100

Alaska—28 in.

Lily form. Remarkably long, twisted buds opening to Lily-like flowers of canary-yellow with a deeper-toned base. Becomes an enormous six-pointed star when fully open.

40 cts. for 3, $1.50 per doz., $11.50 per 100

Argo—26 in.

A gracefully shaped, pointed bud opening to a broad, bowl-shaped flower of canary-yellow, with a wire edge of red, and gradually becoming stippled with red throughout as the bloom develops.

40 cts. for 3, $1.35 per doz., $10.15 per 100

Avis Kennicott—29 in.

Large, elongated flowers of butter-yellow, with dark spots at the base and black anthers. A fine garden variety.

40 cts. for 3, $1.50 per doz., $11.25 per 100

Caledonia—24 in.

DARWIN

MANY years ago, when this classification was determined upon, there undoubtedly were certain characteristics which were common to, or exclusive with, Darwin Tulips. Now changes have taken place. Countless crosses have been made. The blood of other groups has been introduced, and there is almost no feature left which is peculiar to this group alone. We can, therefore, no longer explain just why a "Darwin" is a "Darwin."

The color-range is from white through blush, pink, salmon, rose, shades of red, maroon, purple to black, as well as yellow, and the loveliest shades of lavender and lilac. They grow from 2 to 3 feet in height and bloom in late May.

Darwin Tulips may be effectively grouped in front of shrubs and evergreens or planted in beds and perennial borders. Plant the bulbs 5 to 6 inches deep, and 4 to 6 inches apart during October or November. Cover with a light mulch of some such material as Salt Marsh Hay after the first hard freeze.

It is to this group we must look for the odd colors which do not appear among the Darwin and Cottage Tulips. The colors are generally subdued. ## MISCELLANEOUS BULBS

AMARYLLIS

Halli (Lycoris squamigera) (Hardy Amaryllis). The leaves appear quite early in the Spring and grow until July when they ripen and die to the ground. Then in August, the flower buds spring up and grow rapidly to a height of 2 or 3 feet. These buds soon open into clusters of from 8 to 12 large Lily-like flowers of a rosy lilac color. They are very handsome and always excite admiration.

$1.00 each, $10.00 per doz.

CAMASSIAS

Hardy, bulbous plants with attractive, star-shaped flowers borne freely on stems 2 to 4 feet tall. They will thrive in any reasonably good garden soil and are especially fine for naturalizing.

Esculenta. A very showy variety with rich, dark blue, star-shaped flowers on 2-foot spikes. Excellent for naturalizing or for growing in groups in the garden. Plant the bulbs about 4 inches apart and 4 inches beneath the surface.

70 cts. per doz., $5.00 per 100

Leichtlini, Blue. Blooms of beautiful azure-blue, larger than those of Esculenta, and borne on stems that often reach a height of 4 feet. Excellent for group plantings in the hardy border.

$1.10 per doz., $8.00 per 100

CHIONODOXA • Glory-of-the-Snow

Delightful blue-flowering bulbs for borders, banks, and rock-gardens. They resemble the Scillas, but instead of drooping the inch-broad flowers are held erect on 5-inch stems. They are extremely permanent and are among the finest early-blooming plants.

Luciliae. Sky-blue with a white center. Large clusters of flowers.

$1.15 per doz., $8.50 per 100

COLCHICUM • Meadow Saffron

These hardy Autumn-flowering plants resemble the Crocuses. The flowers appear in Autumn, almost immediately after planting the bulbs, and the leaves come up the following Spring. They may also be grown in pots or pans in prepared bulb fiber or pebbles.

ERYTHRONIUM

80 cts. per doz., $6.00 per 100

HYACINTHS

Because of their beauty and fragrance, and because they bloom at the same time and combine so charmingly with Daffodils, Hyacinths should play a part in every Spring garden. They are also hard to beat as pot-plants for house decoration during the Winter months.

For out-of-door growing, Hyacinths may be planted in any reasonably good garden soil, but a well-drained location is always desirable. Set the bulbs 5 to 6 inches apart, with their tops at least 4 inches below the surface. After the first hard freeze, cover the bed with a light application of some such material as Salt Marsh Hay.

Since the usual Holland bulbs are not available this year, our list of varieties has been greatly reduced. Our English-grown stock consists of four colors only and the bulbs, although not as large as the Giant Hyacinths of former years, will give results that will be more than satisfactory.

In Separate Colors.

35 cts. each, $1.00 for 3, $3.75 per doz., $28.00 per 100

ROMAN HYACINTHS

Blue. For indoor growing only. These dainty Hyacinths are wonderful for growing in pots or ornamental dishes for use in the house. They force very easily in bulb fiber.

35 cts. each, 95 cts. for 3, $3.50 per 100

MERTENSIA VIRGINICA

(Virginia Bluebells)

Charming native wild flowers. Drooping bell-shaped blooms in handsome clusters. In the bud they are pink; in full bloom they become a pinkish lavender which gradually deepens to a lovely shade of bright blue. The plants grow to a height of about 18 inches and the foliage is a pleasing light green.

We recommend them for planting in woodland nooks, under trees and shrubs, or in shady portions of the perennial border. They bloom at the same time and combine beautifully with yellow Daffodils.

HARDY LILIES TO PLANT THIS AUTUMN

LILIES are considered by many to be the most beautiful and ornamental of cultivated plants. Their stately habit and variously colored flowers, often very fragrant, make them almost indispensable for the hardy flower garden, as well as for growing in the greenhouse. Many of the native species may be effectively naturalized and practically all are valuable for use in the mixed perennial border. Most of them will grow very well in pots, and by using several varieties, a succession of bloom may be had over a long period.

It should be remembered that Lilies are primarily wild plants and they do not lend themselves to formal garden bedding schemes. They are at their best in the open garden when grown with a protective ground cover planting or when located in shade for at least a portion of the day. They will do well in mixed perennial plantings, but be sure that the bulbs are not crowded by the roots of other plants.

NO LILY IMPORTATIONS THIS YEAR

As we go to press, there seems no likelihood of our having any Asiatic Lilies to offer this season. We are therefore not listing them.

Conditions may possibly change, so that limited stocks can come forward for very late Autumn or Spring planting. In the meantime, we offer American-grown bulbs of many varieties of outstanding merit—Lilies that you have possibly not considered heretofore.

We urge the planting of these American-grown bulbs.

WINTER RYE

All land is improved by the occasional turning under of a "cover crop." Sow Winter Rye in the Autumn. Turn it under in the Spring. It will improve your land. This is the practice followed by experienced farmers. Improve your garden soil by applying the same sound principal of husbandry.

*Remember
This Very Important Point*

LAWNS ARE THOSE THAT ARE SOWN IN LATE AUGUST
and EARLY SEPTEMBER

The reason for this is easily understood if the following simple facts are considered:

- (A) By Midsummer all weeds have sprouted and made their season's growth. Therefore in Autumn weeds offer no competition to the new grass.
- (B) Lawn grass seed sown by early September has two full months of the best growing weather of the year, before cold weather stops further development.
- (C) By September dry soil conditions are over. Cool nights and heavy dews promote rapid and sturdy growth. Next Spring this growth will continue without check, thus producing a tough, thick, deep green turf that will far surpass any Spring sown lawn.

Breck's Shady Spot Lawn Grass Mixture

Each year we are asked over and over again if Breck's Shady Spot Lawn Grass Seed can be used in conjunction with Boston Park. Actually, our Shady Spot Mixture was designed for just this purpose. The two mixtures may be sown side by side, the one in full sun, and the other in shade or semi-shade. In texture and color they will blend to perfection. Use Shady Spot for all places not in full sunshine—under trees, and here, there, and everywhere, such as the shady side of buildings and along borders where shrubs or trees cast partial shade. The mixture contains no Clover. Sow at the rate of 1 lb. to 300 square feet.
